BOYS STYLISH CLOTHING OF THE RIGHT SORT

The very best that can be tailored—a large variety of styles to humor particular parents. There are lots of advantages in buying here, and none of the least is the saving of money.

Do you know that one of the worst things that you can do for a boy is to buy him poorly-made, badly-fitting clothes? You cut him off from one of the manliest virtues—personal pride. You rob him of right training by making him careless of his clothes, because ashamed of them. Boys, you always take good care of what you like; don't you? Parents, is it or is it not better to have a boy that looks well, than the boy proud and provident? Or is the other kind better—that hangs his head and goes to pieces in no time, and makes you spend twice the money?

Fathers, mothers, boys! good clothes, at comparatively low prices, are at your service.

Double-Breasted Suits, $2.50 to 7.50
London Norfolk Suits, $3.50 to 7.50
Overcoats. - - - - $2.50 to 9.00

Suits that will look well as long as a thread of them is left—good material and good tailoring and knowing-what-boys-want went into them. The patterns are new and neat. The clothing is tailored so we can stand back of it. All sizes—4 to 16 years.

KENTUCKY BUILDING PIANO.

One of the Works of Art of the Exposition Will be sold to the Highest Bidder.

One of the things in the Kentucky Building at the World's Fair that makes it attractive to all visitors is the very fine upright piano occupying a place on the first floor. This piano was a gift from D. H. Baldwin & Co., of Louisville. It has a splendid tone and was valued by the piano company at $600. The front panel is painted to represent a Kentucky scene, as are the side panels. These painted panels are considered veritable works of art by exposition visitors, and have attracted as much attention as anything of this character on the World's Fair Grounds. No better description of the piano has been written than that by Miss Wilhelmine Loss, of Lexington, in a letter to a friend while she was on a trip to Cincinnati last May to attend the musical festivities, during which she had the privilege of a private view of the annual American artists' exhibition. Miss Loss writes as follows:

"I have been greatly interested in the piano Mr. Meakin has decorated for the Kentucky State Building at the Louisiana Purchase Exposition and am altogether delighted with it in its completion. The piano was prepared by one of the Baldwin companies here at the request of our commissioners, and is of native Kentucky walnut, of beautiful color and quality, with carvings representing the leaves and seed-pod of our honey locust. Mr. Meakin was asked to decorate the panels and he has put upon them some typical Kentucky scenes, making a short trip particularly to study them. I could not think, when I first heard of the intention, that a painted piano might be beautiful, but seeing it in the studio, was thoroughly charmed. So well has the artist carried the tones of the rich dark wood into his landscapes that the effect is absolutely harmonious, and one feels that the two arts are linked together to a perfect pleasure."

"In the large front panel is the principal scene, a little town with hills beyond and low meadows in front. The roofs of the houses peep through the trees, one can guess at shady streets pleasant to walk through—smoke is rising from hearths where friends and stranger are welcome, and late twilight seems to blend with the early moonlight that is reflected on the quiet stream in the foreground. Presumably what town it is, one might not say; its identity is rather hinted at than plainly told, but the coloring of the trees, hills and meadow is familiar, the aspect of the scene is homelike, so that in a far land a Kentuckian might gaze at it with misty eyes and a homesick heart. Altogether it is a picture to dream over, and one could feel intensified the charm of all the dearest remembered melodies with this before his eyes.

"On the small narrow panels at either end of the key board are bits of trees and roadway, and something of the same motive, to use the words of all, of the same thought and harmonies, telling one something but varying, like the parts of a song-cycle. There was some thought of putting below the painting a motto from Judge Mulligan's now famous verses, possibly the "Moonlight falls the softest In Kentucky."

"But I do not know the outcome of that. I may seem over-enthusiastic, but it is delightful to see so much accomplishment, and I am hoping that in the multitude of beautiful things at the Exposition, our people may not fail to see this one that is so expressive of their State's worth, and that seeing it once, one of them may be moved to carry it away to his old Kentucky home, where he, and we, may enjoy it forever."

The piano firm paid Mr. Meakin, the New York artist, $45 for the decorations, along with this piano, so this brings its value to more than $1,000. The Kentucky Commission will receive bids on the piano from any and all sources.

THOSE WHO WERE SICK OR HAD SICKNESS IN FAMILY.

Voters living in the city who were sick themselves or had sickness in their families on the registration day can have their names enrolled by going before County Clerk Smith on Monday, Tuesday or Wednesday.

CAN YOU EAT?

J. B. Taylor, a prominent merchant of Cisco, Tex., says: "I could not eat because of a weak stomach. I lost all strength and ran down in weight. All that money could do was done, but all hope of recovery vanished. Hearing of some wonderful cures effected by Dr. J. W. Gayle's Cure, I concluded to try it. The first bottle benefited me, and after taking four bottles I am fully restored to my usual strength, weight and health." Kodol Dyspepsia Cure digests what you eat and cures. Sold by J. W. Gayle.

KENTUCKY SOUVENIRS.

Very Much in Demand by all World's Fair Visitors.

The Kentucky Building at the Louisiana Purchase Exposition is predicted to be the most popular State office on the grounds, and the thousands who have visited this "New Kentucky Home" have shown so much interest in its furnishings and have brought such pressure to bear to obtain pieces of Kentucky souvenirs that the Kentucky Fair Commission has determined to sell all the furnishings, carpets, draperies and curtains in the building.

These furnishings were secured at the prevailing prices, and the interest of Louisville furnishing houses, who donated their profit. During the past week large cards, making the following announcement, were posted all over the Kentucky Building:

Buy a USEFUL SOUVENIR!
Or Course You Want Something
Suggestive of Kentucky.
All The Furnishings, Carpets, Curtains,
Drapery and Show Cases
In the Kentucky Building Are for Sale
CHEAP.
Buy Something.
Inquire at Secretary's Office for Prices.

Since the cards were put up several hundred yards of the carpet and about fifty pieces of the furniture have been sold. Those in Kentucky wishing to get a piece of the furniture or some of the curtains should write at once to the Secretary of the Commission, care Kentucky Building, World's Fair Grounds.

LUNATIC ARRESTED.

A man by the name of Hannon, an escaped lunatic from the Eastern Kentucky Asylum, was arrested in this city, on Monday night. Upon telegram from Superintendent Redwine the man was returned to Lexington on Tuesday night.

ROBBED THE GRAVE.

A startling incident is narrated by John Oliver, of Philadelphia, as follows: "I was in an awful condition. My skin was all yellow, eyes sunken, tongue swollen, pain continually in back and sides, no appetite, growing weaker day by day. Three physicians had given me up. Then I was advised to use Dr. J. W. Gayle's Cure, and my condition improved. I continued their use for three weeks, and am now a well man. I know they robbed the grave of another victim." No one should fail to try them. Only 50 cents, guaranteed at all drug stores.

CHARGED WITH ROBBERY.

Innes Clark and Ed. Diamond, colored, were arrested by Officers Lillis, Harrod, White and Brown on Tuesday, charged with robbing a colored woman in Jillson's alley. They were landed in Castle Harp. Later—Clark was discharged and Diamond held to the grand jury.

SUPPLEMENTAL REGISTRATION.

The supplemental registration will be held on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, October 31 and November 1 and 2, at the County Clerk's Office.

Only those who were absent from the date of the regular registration day, or who were unable to register, or had sickness in their families on that day, will be allowed to register, and even then it will have to be done by affidavit.

There are quite a number of voters who are eligible for registration under this statute.

SMALL CYCLONE.

Just after 5 o'clock, on Friday evening, a small cyclone struck the Benson Valley. The tobacco barn of Mr. Bain Moore containing 4,000 sticks of tobacco, 16 stacks of hay and 3 stacks of oats were blown away, and things generally were pretty shaky for a while. The loss was between $300 and $400.

Mr. Sam A. Hulette's smoke house was blown down also.

We regret to hear of this, as both gentlemen are clever and industrious men, and can ill afford to meet their losses.

RAIN AND HAIL.

Shortly after 5 o'clock, on Friday evening, a heavy storm of rain and hail visited this city. It only lasted for a few minutes, but it made things pretty lively while it was going.

It was a great relief from the clouds of dust and dirt that were being blown about everywhere by the high wind.

BUYS A LOT.

Mr. Ed. S. Coleman has purchased from Mrs. H. H. Williamson, a lot on Fourth avenue, near the corner of Logan, 50 feet front by 112 feet back, for $975.

Mr. Coleman will build a house on the lot in the near future.

EXCELLENT SERMON AND ADDRESS.

On Sunday last Rev. Burris A. Jenkins, D. D., President of Kentucky University, at Lexington, delivered an excellent sermon to the congregation of the Christian Church, in this city. Dr. Jenkins was in fine trim and his sermon was a strong presentation of his theme.

At 7:30 in the evening, he made an address to the congregation upon "Forefather's Day," which was an able and thoughtful one.

Large congregations attended on both of these occasions. Dr. Jenkins is a favorite of a large circle of people in this city.

TRESPASSERS FINED HEAVILY.

Three colored men, who had taken possession of the brick cottage on the rear of the lot of Miss Minnie Scott, on Steele street, were arrested by City Marshal Whitehead, assisted by Officers Brown, Robinson and Thomason, and taken before Judge Herndon, on Tuesday. They refused to vacate the house when notified.

As they had taken forcible possession of the house the officers took forcible possession of them, to have and to hold, until a fine of $55.80 each was satisfied. Castle Tobin will have boarders for some time.

GOOD FOR CHILDREN.

The pleasant to take and harmless One Minute Cough Cure gives instant relief in all cases of Cough, Croup and LaGrippe; because it does not immediately irritate, but takes effect right at the seat of the trouble. It draws out the inflammation, heals and soothes and cures permanently by enabling the lungs to contribute pure life-giving and life-sustaining oxygen to the blood and tissues. By J. W. Gayle.

REPUBLICAN SPEAKING.

Dr. Ben L. Bruner, Republican candidate for Congress in the 4th Congressional District, will address the voters of this city and county, at the Courthouse, on Monday next, October 31st, at 2 o'clock, p. m.

Dr. Bruner is well known here, having served as physician at the jail under Gov. Miller, and also a Representative in the Legislature. He is an able and eloquent speaker.

..DEATHS..

FAULKNER—in this city, on Saturday night, Mr. John Faulkner, aged about 23 years, of consumption.

The funeral services were conducted by Rev. M. B. Adams, from the residence, on Wilkins street, on Monday afternoon, at 2 o'clock, and the interment was in our cemetery.

WRIGHT—in this city, on Monday evening, Mr. James L. Wright, aged 78 years, of rheumatism of the heart.

Mr. Wright was a quiet, industrious and retiring gentleman, who had the respect of all who knew him.

He leaves three sons (Mr. Edward Wright, of Lexington, Mr. W. M. and Mr. Hub Wright, of this city), and one daughter (Mrs. Harry Hastings, of Shelbyville), to mourn his death.

The funeral services were conducted by Rev. M. B. Adams, on Wednesday morning, at 10 o'clock, from the residence on Taylor avenue, and the remains were laid away in our cemetery.

PILL PLEASURE.

If you ever took DeWitt's Early Risers for biliousness or constipation you know what pill pleasure is. These famous little pills cleanse the liver and rid the system of all bilious poisons, and produce wonderful effects. They do not gripe, sicken or weaken, but pleasantly give tone and strength to the tissues and organs of the stomach, liver and bowels. Sold by J. W. Gayle.

PAINFULLY WOUNDED.

On Thursday night while Mr. Emmet Goodwin and some friends were eating at a hotel, a woman, who was evidently fired while in Mr. G.'s hands, the ball entering the left leg just above the knee, ranging down and out below the knee. The wound was attended to at once by Dr. Goodrich, and he will likely do his duty well; he will likely remain for some time; for while not dangerously hurt, the wound will prove very painful.

"DO IT TO-DAY."

The time-worn injunction, "Never put off till tomorrow what you can do today," has been generally presented in this form: "Do it to-day!" That is the terse adage we want to give you about that hacking cough or demoralizing cold with which you have been struggling for weeks, or even days and weeks.

Take some reliable remedy for it to-day—and let that remedy be Dr. Boschee's German Syrup, which has been in use for over thirty-five years. A single dose of it will immediately relieve your cough on cold, and its continued use for a few days will cure you completely. No matter how deeply seated your cough, even if dread consumption has attacked your lungs, German Syrup will surely cure you. It has been used in thousands of apparently hopeless cases of lung trouble. New trial bottles, 25c; regular size, 75c. At all drugists.

FRANKFORT, OCTOBER 29, 1904

A COPY.

State of Kentucky,
Office of the Inspector General,
Frankfort, October 17, 1904.
The Honorable,

The Secretary of War,

Washington:

Sir—General Burton, Inspector General of the Army, in his recent report to you, expresses the following opinion regarding the "Canteen Question," he says: "That the canteen is a moral benefit to the army, and the absence of the canteen leads to sickness and the commission of military offenses, desertion, and other crimes, as well as impaired discipline by driving the men to resort to low dives and groggeries that have sprung up like mushrooms around military reservations, since the prohibition law was enacted." General Burton also says this seems to be the almost unanimous sentiment of the army.

As one who has served in the volunteer army, both at our garrison posts and in the field in war, and also in the regular army in a garrison post, and who is now Inspector General of the Kentucky troops, I wish to enter a vigorous, but nevertheless respectful protest and denial of the truthfulness of every such claim made by General Burton or other officers of the army.

I shall put the cause and truth and right up against our honorable army officers, thereby eliminating the writer and man and men's wisdom. The sword of truth being used, God rightly receives the credit for victory.

I believe we can well afford to be just and strictly truthful, even in dealing with God's enemies, and we can not well afford to be otherwise; for in so doing we both destroy ourselves and the effect of the truth we tell.

The most outrageous lie one can think of, thrown in the very face of the devil, does not displease him a bit; but the thin edge of the sword of truth, drives him to confusion.

Fierce and indiscriminate denunciation of individuals, without definite proof of willful sin, is an unchristian and wicked as the lying flatteries of false prophets. Believing all this so strongly then, I shall proceed accordingly, and make known to you and the public, facts probably hitherto unknown.

The officers of our army are right; or, they are honestly mistaken, and, therefore, wrong; or they are clamoring for what they know to be wrong, for some important reasons, and are, therefore, hypocrites.

Are they right in asserting that drinking whisky and beer is a moral benefit to the army? Are they right in claiming that an article

Grip's

Grim Grasp Caused Heart Disease.

Could Not Lie On Left Side.

Dr. Miles' Heart Cure and Nervine Cured Me.

Mrs. H. R. Job, formerly of Birmingham, Ala., writes from Eldridge, the same state, as follows:

"It is with the greatest pleasure that I recommend Dr. Miles' Nervine and Heart Cure. I only wish that I could tell every soldier how good they have done me. Last winter I had a severe attack of Grippe, which left my heart in a very bad condition. I could not lie down for the smallest spell, that would not overcome me and the feeling of oppression around my heart. I had not been so bad that I could lie on my left side for a long time. I came to see Dr. Miles' Doctor and he said I have no trouble now with my heart and can lie on my left side as well as my right. Formerly I had such trouble with nervous prostration. I had so much trouble that I had got clear out of heart of getting anything that would help me. The grippe in my heart were so bad that sometimes I would lie down so it would seem to stop altogether. It was on the advice of a lady friend that I tried your Restorative Nervine and Heart Cure and took two bottles of Nervine and one of Heart Cure made me feel like a new person. The heart is in right and my nervous system is all gone. I am so grateful to recommend it to others afflicted as I was."

that is destroying and damning and ruining, physically millions, of men and boys daily, is a preventative to sickness of our soldiers? Are they right in saying that a poison that causes men to desert their homes and little ones, will kill a soldier from deserting his flag and country? Are they right in claiming that a thing that causes brother men to murder each other, is good to keep soldiers from murdering each other? Are they right in saying that a drink that makes men kill women, will plant a pride and love of country in the hearts of soldiers? Will the very article that causes civilians to be civil lawbreakers, thereby destroying the public peace, and rendering prisons and civil courts a necessity, be the very thing to keep soldiers from violating military laws, thereby aiding discipline, and rendering military courts useless?

From the beginning of this world up to now, no man or set of men, no devil or set of devils, has ever had the audacity to make such claims. No distiller of whisky, and no saloon keeper, nor a single bum or drunkard, has ever made such startling claims as this. Liquor being a benefit to morality. And it shows the awful straits his satanic majesty is in, and that the time is almost up for this Arch Deceiver to be hurled off this earth, into the bottomless pit, when he goes on by his former agents, and secures officers of that great army, that in former ages made possible such a document as the Declaration of Independence, to assist him now in his last gasping struggle.

Are our army officers honestly mistaken in their claims that the canteen is a benefit to morality? It is possible, but lets see.

Congress thought it was not a benefit, and by its acts of February 2, 1901, section 34 directed as follows: "The sale of or dealing in, beer, wine, or intoxicating liquors, by any person, in any post exchange or canteen, or any transport or upon any premises used for military purposes by the United States, is hereby prohibited. The Secretary of War is hereby directed to carry the provisions of this section into full force and effect."

Had the commands of Congress been obeyed, and the 'full force and effect' of this law been enforced, then the officers of the army, the War Department, and Congress, and lastly the sovereign people, could have determined intelligently and truthfully, the good or bad effects of this law.

The sale of liquor to the soldier, the enlisted men, has been stopped. To the officers it has not. The soldiers are not allowed to bring liquor in their barracks or on the premises of the reservations, the officers are allowed to. The canteens or post exchanges where the soldiers could formerly buy liquor, were immediately closed upon the passage of this law, and have forever since remained closed. The officers clubs, where they purchase from, never closed and sell liquor secretly. Besides officers keep liquor in their houses. The private soldier is made to obey the law, and the officers willfully disobey it. The soldiers see the inequality before the law, and the disobedience on the part of their officers, and being Americans, they resent the hypocrisy of their officers, and become revengeful, reckless and obstinate, and then willfully disobey the law, when they otherwise would not. I tell you the way to get obedience to law and orders, and good moral conduct from the soldiers, is to require it first of the officers. The officers, obedient, moral and sober, the men obedient, moral and sober. The officers, lawbreakers and hypocrites, the soldiers, lawbreakers and hypocrites.

The road to good discipline and good moral conduct for the soldiers is narrow and leads right straight through the officers.

For proof of every charge herein made, I direct you to the writer who has witnessed the violations herein alleged, and I also direct you to every post commander, president and officers of the officers clubs, and almost all of the officers of the army, and to thousands and thousands of enlisted men, who, if placed under oath, will corroborate the above in full. I can almost direct you to another class of army people if it be necessary.

The utter disregard and disobedience of the known laws of Congress, on part of the officers of the army, almost as a whole, insofar as their buying and drinking liquor is concerned, coupled with their almost unanimous opinion, that again selling liquor inside the posts to the soldiers is an aid to morality and good discipline, etc., might create the suspicion that it is self they are thinking of, in that they are fearful lest they too will have the law enforced against them, thereby banishing liquor and all kinds of drinks, from the officers clubs and officers quarters.

My third proposition may now read plainer, and I shall repeat it. For are they clamoring for what they know to be wrong, for important reasons, and are, therefore, hypocrites.

If there be any of this kind, we wish to remind them, that human language cannot sufficiently express the vileness of willful, sin, especially hypocrisy. The terrible arraignment of over 1800 years ago, was of hypocrites and not the ordinary poor sinner.

Some may be honestly mistaken, and we trust they may get right and stand up for right.

We can not see how any sane man can prescribe unholy, unrighteous, or the devil's means, for effecting a permanent and honorable and patriotic spirit in the hearts of our citizens and soldiers. If the devil's means are used, he will reveal just too little to really raise the standard and morals of men, so that a flat failure will ensue; for if he does otherwise he is destroying his own household, a thing he is not apt to do.

Therefore, righteous and holy God's means must be used, if we are to succeed. It is a mark of infidelity to show want of confidence in God's plans and means to regenerate and make new the man, that he may be a righteous lawabiding being.

I trust the government will not, by law, carry liquor to the soldiers, and then by another law tell them, if they drink and get drunk or commit a wrong, the government will, by still a third law, severely punish them.

Instead of the next congressional enactment authorizing the sale again inside a post, let that law be so written as to banish still further from the posts, the sale of liquor to either officers or soldiers.

And lastly, I believe the enactment of laws, and the issuing of orders, to be only one-tenth of the proposition, and that the other nine-tenths is seeing that they are obeyed.

Beauty, cards and drink, have destroyed many great armies before. They have largely contributed to the destruction of the Russian army to-day. May they not destroy the people and army of the land of my birth?

Respectfully,
NOEL GAINES.

SETTING A PRISONER FREE.

A man with rheumatism is a prisoner. His fetters are none the less galling because they are invisible. To him Perry Davis' Painkiller comes as a liberator. Rubbed well into the swollen, stiffened joints it not merely drives away the pain, it removes the muscle stiffness so that the prisoner becomes a free man. There is but one Painkiller, Perry Davis'. 25 and 50 cents.

FINE SERMON.

Rev. J. Theodore Bowden, of Windsor, Va., preached for Pastor Adams, at the First Baptist Church, on Sunday morning last. His theme was taken from the 8th chapter of John, 32d verse: "And ye shall know the truth, and the truth shall make you free."

It was a splendid presentation of the truth and an earnest appeal to his hearers to accept the knowledge of the truth and become free from the toils of sin and enter the service of Him who alone can make men free in the highest sense of the word.

The large audience present was delighted with the sermon.

Mr. Bowden married the handsome and accomplished daughter of Mr. Sam Martin, of the Steadmanton neighborhood, and, with his wife, is on a visit to that family.

We hope to hear him again in the near future.

MCCLURE'S FOR NOVEMBER.

IMPROVED TRAIN SERVICE

Offered by the Henderson Route Between Louisville and St. Louis.

McClure's for November is fairly thrills with the keenest interest in the world of men and things of today. In both article and story, it is not only pleasing, but hews close to the line of life. Indeed, McClure's seems to become constantly richer, more varied and more brilliant, as this number is well in evidence. Three great political articles especially distinguish the number at this time, and make most important contributions to the literature of the campaign. Vivid pen pictures of the two leading candidates are presented—Parker by ex-President Lincoln, Roosevelt by Senator Lodge; the first by the man whose own experience best qualifies him to speak with authority on the Presidency, the second a most interesting and searching glimpse of the real Roosevelt through the eyes of his long-time friend and political adviser. More new light, a sensational revelation, fact, is shed by Ray Stannard Baker's researches into the records of the two candidates on the labor question. Though candidates and party managers are dumb, their records speak for them, and tell a story every voter will want to read—a story as interesting as it is important. Mr. Baker's rare power of vivifying facts never showed to greater advantage.

Stewart Edward White begins a new serial, 'The Rawhide,' like his other stories, full of the free air of the wilderness, poignant with its color and immensity. He has chosen for his present setting the wonderful desert of Arizona, and out of the long monotony of the simple lives of its people he evolves dramatic possibilities which promise a great story. His description of the desert, its meaning and its influence, in this first instalment, shows him the master artist here, as in the forest and the mountains. It is illustrated by Maxfield Parrish.

The short stories of the number squarely strike the note of the hour. Booth Tarkington draws on his political experiences for a wonderful story of politics with a character creation that will take rank with his best, in 'The Need of Money.' James Hopper, himself a famous college football player, leaves his chosen field of the Philippines and describes 'The Passing of the Vet,' a football story of intense realism and power, strikingly suggestive as well as fascinating. Rex E. Beach mixes pathos, humor, and tragedy into a moving whole in 'The Thaw at Sisco's.' The rough, dark life of the Klondike is lightened by sentiment with artistic strokes. A most fetching love story is 'Kilbreth of Ballyraggan,' by Grace S. Richmond, a tale of charming people and plot all should know. Myra Kelly calls her East Side school story 'A Passport to Paradise,' and into it throws the rich humor and insight into the life she describes which have characterized her work here.

A stereoscopic picture of that most vital of school problems, 'The Parent,' is given by M. H. Carter out of a long, personal trial at its solution. It is most humorous as well as instructive reading. A. W. Rolker contributes a very readable article, the biography of a New York fire horse, 'The Black Roan of 265,' full of the hazardous and adventurous spirit of the fire-fighters, with graphic descriptions of dramatic incidents in their lives. 'Out of the Jaws of Death' is the narrative of the marvelous escape of two Union soldiers from a land of guerrillas during the Civil War, by W. H. Seak—an astounding story of actual experience.

The number closes with an editorial on 'The Making of McClure's Magazine,' which describes the organization of the famous staff which has done such remarkable work for this popular periodical.

BIG SENSATION.

There was a big sensation in Evansville, Ind., when W. H. Brown, of that city, who had expected to die, had his life saved by Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption. ETHICS OF EDUCATION.

Fifth Paper.

Some writer has said that to be well educated one need have only three books, the Bible, Shakespeare and the dictionary, and the thought is suggestive, pertinent and wisely presented. Fearful of too much religious instruction, many prominent educators of to-day insist on the utter nullification of all forms of moral or sectarian introduction in university, college, or the public schools, and in thus advocating such a theory have established a predicate—as well as a precedent—inimical, and prejudicial to the well-grounded, broad-minded, psychic teacher who is determined to regain lost vantage ground—and to train to-day's child in its three-fold sense—after the similitude of the great law given, whose "ipso dixit" reads:

"Train up a child in the way it should go and when it is old it will not depart from it."

A boy who has character will be ready to meet the vicissitudes of change and circumstance with ease and facility. Character gives as well as wins confidence. "It is the wool of honor from which a coat of mail can be woven that the keenest knife of disrepute can not pierce. Every thought, every act, every word, adds links to the golden chain, and our failures or successes help to form a reputation that might be destroyed by an external force, but the destruction of a character can be effected only by some internal force."

There are thousands of parents, to-day, who are slaving to give their boys capital on which to make a start in life, but who give no heed to the building up of the same boy's character. The house might as well be built without foundation under it. Educate the boy! Give him a trade, inculcate the doctrine of eternal fitness. Teach him self-reliance, honest convictions, reverence and polite diet, and with clear insight and unprejudiced vision, he will go forth armed and prepared to meet and combat daily difficulties, possessing the fundamental and vital requisites of an "all round" sensible, practical true education without which the requirements of schools, the grandeur of learning, the training of mental acumen are fraught only with vain conceits, morbid ambitions, hopeless failures, criminal catastrophes and moral wrecks on the shores of aghastism.

"The true secret of happiness for every day living," said Canon Wescott, "is not to escape toll and affliction, but to meet them with the faith that through them the destiny of man is fulfilled—that through them we can even now, to-day, reflect the image of our Lord and be transformed into the likeness of the great Teacher." Children love to hear the story of the "Baby born in the manger," the lesson of the boy Joseph and his brethren, the tragedy of that Gettysburg in which we too weep as we follow up the cross of Calvary. It were well for us to study the divine Ego, and then to go forth ready and willing to give all of life to the cause we have espoused.

"Next to acquiring good friends, The best acquaintance is that of good books." "Knickerbocker Tales," "Leather Stocking Tales," the story of "Pocahontas and the one hundred authenticated tales of Lang Syne," "Grecian and Roman mythology, especially pleasing in history and biography. Traditions, legends and myths are always new and interesting, and the folklore of our country, neighborhood, or State, is most entertaining for topics and discussion.

The tales of Shakespeare are too sad, yet as told in the simplicity of "Lamb's Tales of Shakespeare," they are robbed of much of the sorrow. Good wholesome truths of every day life lie hidden in many of these grand plays, and are re-written as history, art, science, comedy and tragedy on the white pages of the child-heart. Only a child of peculiar mold and a refined organism should have access to Shakespeare. Indeed, only a teacher of exquisite sensibility should dare enter upon the task of transcribing. All that is grand and noble, all that is vulgar and commonplace is therein portrayed in language as pure and as chaste as virgin's thought or as immodest as a bold buffoonery will allow.

Word pictures should be framed only in priceless material, for the soul of the child looks out through your diamond lenses. Common sense is also an essential attribute, and important in the highest degree, when one determines bethew a royal road to learning. The possessive quality of education is negative, without this faculty and a competent instructor is readily recognized by the child.

Inculcate principles of correct and grammatical English. Encourage broad and cultured methods, style, and manners, elevating to the highest plane of ethics, and matchless as the most exquisite bit of statuary.

Vacation Expenses

Are you in search of an inexpensive place for your summer vacation, where you can have a really enjoyable outing at but a nominal cost? Look around the country south of Michigan and northern Indiana and that along the south shore of Lake Erie, between Buffalo, N. Y., to Toledo, Ohio, including the historic Lake Erie Islands, will meet your wishes.

There are hundreds of places in this summer region. You can secure good board with rooms at rates averaging from $5 to $8 per week.

Look around and you will find a great variety of summer places to choose from, and enjoy in many ways the simplicity of summer life afforded in this delightful summer vacation land.

Our book, "Quiet Summer Retreats," covering a large list of boarding places, with rates, proprietors' names and addresses, features of location, camp sites, furnished cottages, etc., will assist in selecting a place, and will be sent by undersigned for 2 cents in postage.

For summer excursion rates to points named in book apply to your local ticket agent, and if he can not furnish, or for any desired information, address

OUR MOTTO: "GRADE HIGH." "PRICES LOW."

We mean just what we say—"High Quality—Low Prices." Some people think that a good article can't be had for a low price—that, if they pay a good price they are always sure of a good article.

That is wrong. Sometimes merchants cut the prices on excellent goods below cost just to get people into the store—they lose money to make trade.

That is the case when we offer Glenmore Whisky at $2.00 per gallon.

CLIMATIC CURES.

The influence of climatic conditions in the cure of consumption and other diseases is well known. The poor patient, and the rich patient too, can do much better at home by proper attention to food digestion, and a regular use of German Syrup. Free expectoration in the morning is made certain by German Syrup. By a glass of water first thing in the morning, followed by a regular use of German Syrup liberally and regularly. Should you be able to go to a warmer climate, you will find that of the thousands of consumptives there, the few who are benefited and regain strength are those that use German Syrup. A DANGEROUS DESCENT.

Foolhardy Undertaking of Two Daring Workmen on the Niagara Suspension Bridge.

Reckless daring is often displayed by men whose daily labors place them in positions of danger that those who have to deal with them are astonished at nofeat of bravado. Mr. Frank Skinner gives in McClure's Magazine an instance of this daring on the part of men who were engaged in replacing the Niagara suspension bridge.

It happened that so many valuable tools were dropped from the bridge that some of the more careless losers were discharged. Consequently, when one day a man dropped a wrench 200 feet to the water's edge, he foolishly started to recover it by descending hand over hand on a steeply inclined, iron grating.

He had no sooner started on his insane exploit than a rival, out of sheer bravado, essayed to descend an adjacent rope. After going a few feet they both realized the almost impossible nature of the journey they had undertaken, and tried to return. It could not be done and the only chance of safety lay in continuing their descent.

It seemed to their horrified companions that human muscles could not endure the increasing strain of that long passage downward. The foreman shouted instructions, interspersed with violent abuse, the object of which was to divert their minds from the fright that added to their despair.

By what seemed almost a miracle both men held on until they had crossed the water. Then one of them dropped safely into a tree top. The other finally gave out, and fell a considerable distance to the ground. Both, however, escaped practically un-hurt.
